

Corporate Governance and Next Practices in Board Effectiveness

This is a full day event will focus on the global need for independent corporate directors and advice on how to become an effective director. Discussions will include pathways to the board room, trends in director compensation and director responsibilities. Academic and Shareholder perspectives will be discussed. Alternative solutions to director dilemmas will be shared in case studies. Experts estimate that there will be a need for over 40,000 additional independent corporate directors.

- Position yourself to fill the need for one of these coveted positions by learning the “next practices”
- Learn how corporate boards effectively create value for private and publicly traded companies around the world
- Are you prepared for what tomorrow’s boards will be seeking to “refresh” their current board?

Who Should Attend: Corporate Directors, Potential Directors, C-Suite Executives, Company Owners, Shareowners and Corporate Advisors

Friday, October 24, 2014 – 8:30am to 5:30pm

MGM Grand Conference Center, 3799 South Las Vegas Blvd, Las Vegas, NV 89109

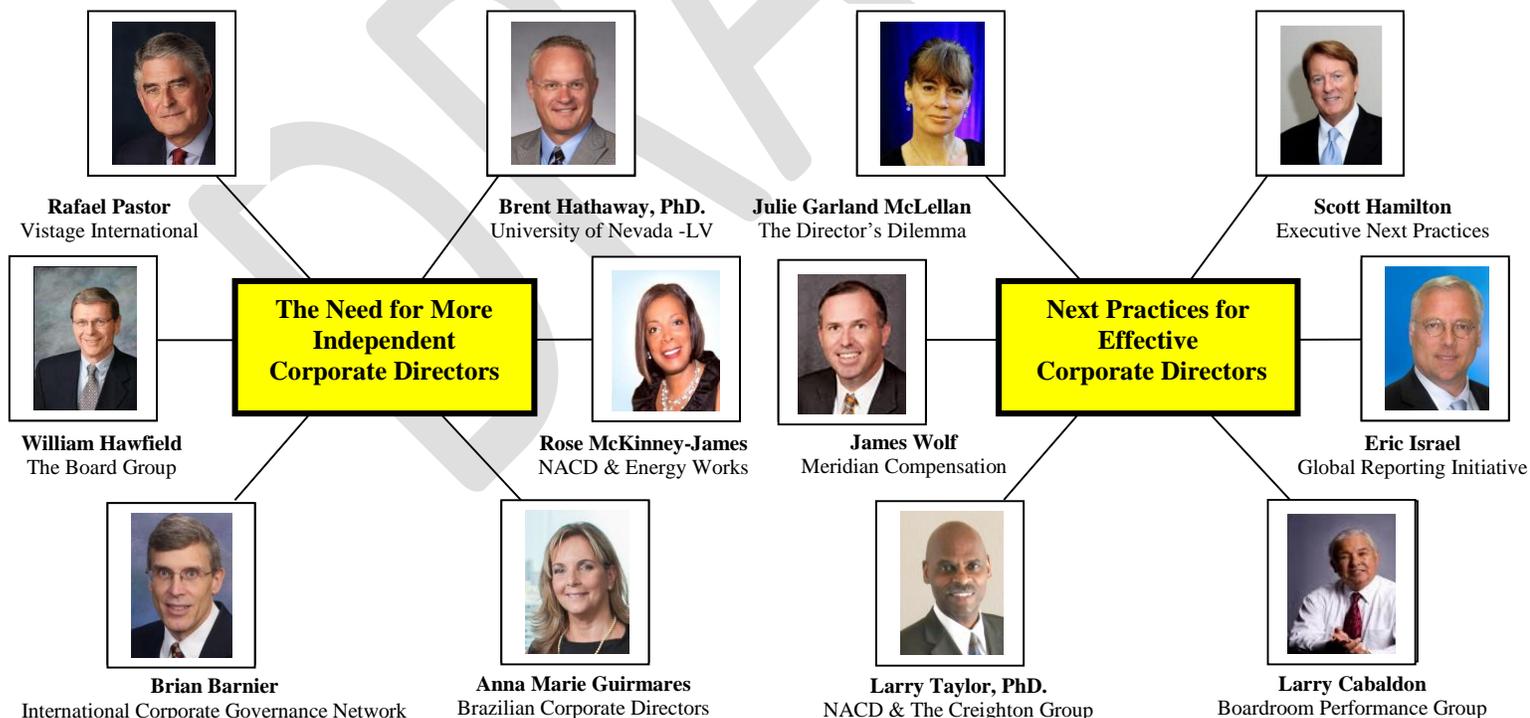

FEATURED KEYNOTE SPEAKER: Corporate Governance meets Sports Governance

Anita DeFrantz – Executive Board Member, International Olympic Committee

Through her director and governance role at the International Olympic Committee, Ms. DeFrantz addresses governance issues around the world. She will compare and contrast corporate governance protocols with those of the IOC via an intimate interview by Dr. Larry Taylor. Her significant interfaces with global corporations and various countries, including those in Asia, Africa Europe, the Middle East and the Americas will provide an interesting back drop to discussions.

Other Primary Speakers:

Sponsors: Vistage International, Meridian Compensation, Available Sponsor, Available Sponsor, Available Sponsor, Available Sponsor

Cost to Attend: NACD, ENP Annual Members Rate $125.00 Non-Member Rate $195.00
Register at www.nacdsocal.org. – Special Hotel Rates at 30% discount

There will be a cocktail networking session on the Thursday evening before the event and on Friday evening after the event.